Subject: [OHVINTON-L] Early History of Vinton Township part 1
Date: Sun, 20 May 2001 20:24:24 -0500

(I have neither date nor name of paper for this one)

By Gladys L. Pierce

We have no definite knowledge of the exact date the first settler came to Vinton Township. Trappers and hunters wandered along Raccoon and Elk Fork (Middlefork) Creeks and passed on after a few months leaving no written history. The oldest settlers came about 1815. My husband's grandfather, James Pierce was born February 9, 1921 in Vinton Township, then a part of Athens County. His parents both were born in Montgomery County, Virginia but we don't know when the emigrated to Vinton Township. Among those who came before 1820 were the Allmans, Riffles, Molihans, Gregorys, Benningtons, Axtells, Bowens, Booths, Radcliffs, Eakins, Smiths, Henslers and Maces. The Arbaugh came about 1830 and the Calvins 1844. Thomas Sharp emigrated from Meigs County in 1872 and S. J. (Jackson) Jeffers came in 1875. Both families were prominent in the later history.

The chief industries were farming, grist and saw milling and mining. There were two water powered grist mills-both on Raccoon Creek. The older one was built by Stephen Eakin about 1833 and was near the center of the township. It was burned during the Civil War and rebuilt in 1864. It was purchased by Henry Geer in 1879 and was operated by his family until about 1935. The other was at Vales Mill and was built by Gabriel Bowen in 1838 or 1839. He ran it a number of years. In 1876 John Quincy Adams Vale purchased it from Arthur Vale, It, too, was abandoned in the 30's or earlier.

Gabriel married (1) Elizabeth TUGGLE, daughter of John TUGGLE and Elizabeth (Betsey) HARRISON, on 14 Dec 1813 in Patrick Co., Va. Elizabeth was born about 1780/1790 in Virginia. She died before 1849 in Patrick Co., Va.

They had the following children:

- + 2 F i. Mary BOWLING was born about 1816.
- + 3 F ii. Sarah BOWLING was born about 1817.
- + 4 M iii. John W. BOWLING was born about 1818.
- + 5 F iv. Nancy BOWLING was born about 1819.
- + 6 M v. Henry T. BOWLING was born about 1820.
- + 7 M vi. Gabriel BOWLING Jr. was born 10 Oct 1823 and died 30 Jan 1885.

Gabriel also married (2) Katherine Sally LESUER, daughter of Martel LESUER and Elizabeth BACON, on 15 Oct 1849 in Franklin Co., Va. Katherine was born 8 Apr 1800 in Virginia.

Katherine is a descendant of Nathaniel Bacon. Well known in Virginia Colonial History. Her marriage license to John Lavinder, Sr. clearly shows her name as Katharine S. LeSuer, some records show Katherine with a C. I will leave it with a K until I find other proof. In John's will she is clearly Katheirne Lavinder with a K. Property: December 30, 1844, Deed Book 19, page 194, Franklin Co., Va. Deed between Abner Stult, Dorothy B. his wife of Henry Co. and John Lavinder and Katherine S. his wife of Franklin County and one part Grandason B. LeSueur of Franklin Co." - from Ellie LeSueur Daisley

Katherine Sally LeSueur

Katherine Sally LeSueur b. 4/8/1809 married 1st to John Lavinder on July 1, 1844 in Franklin Co., Va. She married 2nd to Gabriel Bowling on 10/15/1849 in Franklin Co., VA. Katherine is the d/o Martell LeSueur and Elizabeth Bacon. Martell is the son of David LeSeur Jr. and Elizabeth Chastain. Elizabeth Chastain d/o Pierre Chastain and Ann Soblet.

I would like to verify these facts. Also I am looking for any lead that will verify that John Lavinder was a French Huguenot, when did he come to America, when was he born. Katherine was his 2nd wife, they had no known children. John and his 1st wife Mary Depity had 8 children.

Have you heard of the Lavinder name, the Depity name, the LeSueur name??? Any help would be appreciated.

111. Nathan Charles BOWLING (Gabriel Peyton, Gabriel, Gabriel) was born 28 Oct 1890 in Patrick Co., VA. He died Aug 1975.

Hi thanks for writing back. I am supposed to be working on a couple job descriptions for my boss but this is definitely more interesting. I live in Holbrook, NY, its on Long Island, NY. Work brought me up here that's all.

Well, Nathan was very interesting, everyone called him Grandy. When my father was in the military, he was able to receive an assignment to Roanoke, VA. because of my brother, he was born with Spina Bifida. My dad was exposed to agent orange during Vietnam. During the three years we were there, my mother was sort of taking care of Grandy. He still lived alone and drove own car. She would take me over to his house and I would sit with him for hours or play in his garden. I loved his walk up attic. He had some of the most beautiful furniture up there.

Grandy had two children, Edward and my grandfather Isaac Peyton Bowling. I really don't know much about Edward. My grandfather, died in 1964, three years before I was born, he was an alcoholic. Before he died he fathered six children, five boys and one girl. My mother and father grew up together and then the family moved to Daytona Beach, FL. They only returned in 1964 for Isaac's funeral and that is when my parents renewed their friendship and were married. Most of my dad family is still in FL. and I have an uncle and a cousin that live near Fort Benning, Donny Bowling.

Grandy married Clarice Cruise. I always thought her name was Anna Clarissa Cruise. She died in the sixty's and he married again. My mother, Barbara, could tell you more information about him. Her address is babohere@aol.com.

I can also remember visiting my great uncle, Clyde and his wife also named Clarissa. They lived right down the street from Grandy.

As for Gabriel, his wife Elizabeth Tuggle, I was able to find information on her family back to Thomas Tugwell born 4 Dec 1629, Bradford, England. I know back in those days, bloodlines and family names meant a lot. I don't think they would have allowed Elizabeth Tuggle to marry anybody??

My mother lives in Roanoke, VA, she moved back about seven years ago. I know one of my uncles, Ray Bowling, has done a family history. Unfortunately, I have never been close to my uncles, especially since the divorce. The cousins do keep in touch and I may be able to find out more information. Also, I will be in Roanoke at Thanksgiving. Its only 64 miles to Patrick County. I was thinking about driving down there. Most of the Bowling's seem to be buried at Buffalo Ridge. We do have a lot of Bowlings buried in Salem VA, My grandfather, Grandy, some Great uncles.

So, Where do you and your family fall into this picture? Who was your great grand father? Look forward to hearing from you and exchanging information.

Teresa

WILLIAM "BUNNY" LOVETT JR., INSURANCE AGENT, BOXING CHAMP

William Bernard "Bunny" Lovett Jr., an insurance agent and a boxing champion who was inducted to the University of Miami's Sports Hall of Fame, died of Alzheimer's disease Saturday. He was 81.

"Bunny" nicknamed after his father, never lost a dual-meet boxing match during his four years at the University of Miami. Thirty-seven years after graduating, he was inducted to their Sports Hall of Fame.

"He is known as one of the most outstanding boxers in the history of the university," UM President Edward T. Foote II said. "He was a good friend to this university and I'm going to miss him."

Lovett stood five feet one inch tall and never weighed more than 135 pounds.

"He liked all the sports, but he had to have a sport he could compete in because of his size and height and weight," said his wife, Rachel Havener. "He never got hit in the face or head. He was a good boxer."

So good that when Cassius Clay defeated heavyweight champion Sonny Liston in Miami on Feb. 25, 1964, Lovett was asked to be a judge.

Born in Stuart, Va., in 1918, Lovett later moved to West Virginia, where he started boxing. While attending Welch High School, he won the Golden Glove and was a member of the West Virginia Sports Hall of Fame.

For that, he received a four-year scholarship to the University of Miami. While at the university, he met his first wife, Marion Brown. The couple divorced after 18 years of marriage.

Lovett, who graduated in 1940, often kept a journal. On graduation night, he wrote: "I will always have great respect and admiration for the University of Miami and the good people connected with it."

Lovett continued his work with UM after serving two years in the armed forces.

He served as president of the alumni association in 1954 and as a board member for more than 40 years while working as an insurance agent. He also coached intramural boxing at the university for more than 27 years.

In 1960 he met Rachel Havener, who was working as a receptionist in the president's office.

"I was widowed and had four children - three little ones and a teenager," she said. "I needed an insurance agent to pay for health care. I was referred to him."

In 1961, the couple married. "He sold me a life policy," Havener joked.

His wife recalls not being able to go to a boxing event without hearing Lovett's nickname.

"Every time we'd go any place, "Hello Bunny," could be heard everywhere," she said.

In addition to his wife, Lovett is survived by his brother Charles; son Bill; daughter Robin Sarantos; stepsons John, Allen and Andrew Havener; 18 grandchildren; and several great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at 10 a.m. today at Stanfill Funeral Chapel, 10545 S. Dixie Hwy.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that a donation in his name be made to the University of Miami or the Alzheimer's Association.

Police: Suspect sought hitman

EDEN — The suspect in a 17-year-old homicide sought to have a woman murdered in exchange for a bass fishing boat, according to a search warrant filed at the Rockingham County Courthouse.

Ernest Wayne Jones, 58 , was arrested this week by Rockingham County sheriff's deputies and Eden police officers on three charges: murder, solicitation to commit murder and first-degree arson.

He's accused of killing Ralph Chumley , who was found beaten in his mobile home on Nov. 25, 1989 , and died later that day.

Jones became a suspect in that homicide via a separate investigation that began when Jones, of Eden , called his nephew on April 8 to ask him to kill someone, authorities said.

Two days later, the nephew, James Stephen Wray , also of Eden, told police about the conversation.

Wray said that Jones offered him a bass fishing boat to murder Lisa Divinnie , who Jones thought had stolen his guns, authorities said, and that Jones planned to kill her boyfriend, who was unnamed.

On April 10, Wray put on a wire at the Eden police department and headed to Jones' house.

"Let's take a ride," Jones told Wray once he arrived, according to the warrant.

The two went to Divinnie's home on Ashby Avenue in Eden, where Jones pointed out her bedroom and when she would be home.

There, the warrant states, Jones told Wray he wanted Divinnie shot and her bed doused with gasoline and burned.

Then, on Tuesday afternoon, Jones' sister, Gladys Jones, went to Eden police. Her brother had called her, she said, and asked her to pawn a gun for cash to pay his city water bill.

It's unclear why she approached police, based on court documents.

Police outfitted Gladys Jones with a wire and she went to his house.

Once there, Wayne Jones told her that he didn't need to sell a gun. He asked her to file a warrant under her name to get two pistols back from Divinnie.

Wayne Jones said that she had to do it for him because he was a convicted felon and not allowed to own guns, according to a transcript of the recorded conversation.

Wayne Jones was convicted in 1980 of armed robbery with a firearm in Henry County, Va.

The two talked about guns and ammo, the warrant said, and he showed her shotgun shells filled with darts, stating they could fire through an engine block.

Gladys Jones asked about having a gun for safety and he gave her a Ruger long rifle, the warrant said. After leaving the house, Gladys Jones returned to the Eden police station and turned over the gun.

Thursday morning, authorities arrested Wayne Jones without incident on Fieldcrest Road in Eden.

Available court documents don't reveal details of Wayne Jones' link to Chumley's death, but sheriff's Capt. Perry Brookshire said he has strong evidence.

Neither he nor Eden police would say how they made the connection between Wayne Jones and the homicide.

"The good side of that is, when it goes to trial, we'll have a whole lot to say then," Eden police Chief Gary Benthin said. .

Wayne Jones was being held Friday with no bond in Rockingham County Jail.

Marine lives in memories
By DEBBIE HALL
Bulletin Staff Writer

The most accurate portrayal of a life are not words chiseled in stone, but rather memories etched in the hearts of loved ones.

Among those in Jonathan Bowling's inner circle, there is no shortage of recollections.

"Jon was a good guy. He was loving, kind, compassionate and he went to church a whole lot," said Clint Weidhaas, a close friend.

Cpl. Jonathan Williams Bowling, 23, of Patrick County, along with three other members of his Marine Reserve Unit based in Lynchburg, died when their convoy was ambushed on in Iraq on Wednesday.

Jonathan was the son of Darrell Bowling, Master Trooper with the Virginia State Police, and Robin Feron, of Patrick County. His step-parents are Greg Feron and Rita Bowling, also of Patrick County. Jonathan Bowling also was an officer with the Martinsville Police Department.

"My best friend has been taken from me. He was my brother," Weidhaas said. The two enjoyed many hobbies together -- motorcycling, four-wheeling, hunting, fishing and target shooting.

"Jon and I were planning on going riding when he got back," Weidhaas said. Both were students at Patrick County High School and both aspired to be state troopers.

"We were hoping to work together. Now, that won't happen," he said.

Weidhaas said he talked with Bowling about two weeks ago.

"The last thing he said to me was 'I miss you, brother.' Then, I said it back to him. That was it," Weidhaas said.

It was the last time the two talked.

"I'm handling it, but I've never been through anything like this before,"

Weidhaas said. "We were brothers in God and in life. When you get that taken away, it hurts. It's going to take awhile."

Weidhaas' biggest concern now is for Tonya McFarling, Bowling's girlfriend.

"She's taking it real hard and there's nothing I can do. They loved each other," he said.

But through her tears, McFarling also manages to smile at some of the memories.

"I loved everything about Jon. There wasn't anything I didn't love. He was so sweet. He didn't have a fault," McFarling said. "We never argued. We always found a happy medium."

Although not formally engaged, McFarling said Bowling told her when she took him to Lynchburg, "We've got big plans to make. I'll be home and we've got big plans to make."

She said Bowling managed to call her regularly -- even if it meant getting up at 3 or 4 a.m. to beat the long lines at the telephone.

He even managed to call on Christmas Day. "That was the best Christmas present I got," she said.

McFarling's 26th birthday was on Tuesday. "I knew he'd find a way to call me on my birthday," she said. "I told him I loved him and he told me he loved me. That was the last thing he said."

Bowling's untimely death has created a void.

"We did everything together and every second we spent together was perfect. We'd just sit there and wish we could freeze the moment," McFarling said. "I miss him."

"It's easy to understand why God would want him back so soon," said Stuart

Scott, chief of the Fairystone Fire Department.

Scott said the first time he met Bowling was at the scene of a car wreck, before Bowling joined the fire department.

Scott and his crew got a call to respond to an accident on Virginia 57, he said. When the crew arrived at the scene, they saw a car turned upside down.

"We got on our turn-out gear and were peeping in the windows when here comes this young man crawling out one of the windows. He was dressed in a black tie, black pants and a white shirt," Scott recalled with a chuckle. Turns out, it was Bowling. He saw the wreck while on his way home from church and stopped to help.

Scott said some of the members good-naturedly teased Bowling about answering calls while he was dressed up.

"And he said, 'I like action,'" Scott said. Scott invited Bowling to join the department and he did.

Among the gag gifts at the annual banquet that year was a plaque for Bowling.

"We gave him an award for being the best-dressed fireman," Scott said.

Chris Corbett, Patrick County commonwealth's attorney, knew Bowling as a fellow volunteer firefighter and knew his family as well.

Although Bowling lived north of Stuart and was a member of the Fairystone Volunteer Fire Department, he often showed up "in all kinds of weather" to help work calls in Stuart, where Corbett is a member.

"Like most of us, Jon wanted to be where the action was and he wanted to help, but he would even show up for traffic duty," Corbett said. And that, he added, can be "pretty boring."

Youthful energy and maturity beyond his years made Bowling unique, he said.

When Bowling joined the Marine reserves, Corbett said some family members expressed concern. When he was destined to go to Iraq, that concern intensified.

Bowling's reply, Corbett said, was "'if I don't go, someone else will have to.' That's just the kind of person he was."

As family and friends mourn, their loss is felt across the state.

"Mr. Speaker, you know I believe that humor is an essential component of life ... Unfortunately today, Mr. Speaker, there is no humor in my district," said Del. Ward Armstrong, D-Collinsville.

Armstrong requested that the House of Delegates adjourn on Thursday "in the honor and memory of Corporal Jonathan W. Bowling."

"The lives of these young Virginia Marines and all the men and women who have made the ultimate sacrifice in the war on terror will always be remembered in the hearts and minds of their families and friends, their communities, our commonwealth and indeed, our great nation," U.S. Sen. George Allen said Thursday.

Bowling, a drilling reservist with Company C, 4th Combat Engineer Battalion of Lynchburg, initially joined the Marine Corps in June 2000.

According to a release from Chief Warrant Officer David Dennis, a Marine spokesman, Bowling sustained injuries to the head and shoulder from "small arms and explosions while conducting combat operations against enemy forces in the Al Anbar province of Iraq."

Bowling's remains are scheduled to arrive in Dover, Delaware, around noon today. When protocol there is completed, the remains will be flown to Greensboro, N.C., and from there to Stuart, Dennis said.

Martinsville mourns death of city police officer in Iraq

By Matt Hankins

MARTINSVILLE, Va. – The City of Martinsville is mourning the passing of one of its police officers in military action.

Officer Jonathan W. Bowling, 23, was on military leave from the city fulfilling a Marine Reserves commitment when he was killed in combat operations in Iraq Wednesday. He was one of four Marines killed during an ambush attack on a convoy.

"We are deeply saddened to lose an officer of Jonathan's quality, character and integrity," said Martinsville Police Chief Mike Rogers. "His loss will leave a void not only on our police force but also in our hearts. We hope for peace and strength for Jonathan's family as they mourn his passing."

Martinsville City Manager Dan Collins expressed similar regret in Bowling's death.

"Officer Bowling was fulfilling his obligation to his country," said Collins. "Our thoughts, condolences, gratitude and prayers go to his family in this difficult time. It is also difficult for our officers, our staff and everyone in administration, because the Bowling family's loss is our loss."

Jonathan Williams Bowling joined the Martinsville Police Department Dec. 15, 2002. He was a 2000 graduate of Patrick County High School and a 2002 graduate of Patrick Henry Community College with an associate's degree in Administration of Justice.

The son of Robin Feron of Stuart (mother) and Master Trooper Darrell Bowling and stepmother Rita of Stuart, the young officer wanted to follow his father's footsteps into service as a state trooper.

"He's the only person I have ever hired knowing that they probably wouldn't stay very long with our department," said Rogers. "When I met with him to offer him a job, I asked him 'How long will you stay with us?' and he said, 'You know I eventually want to be a trooper, but I'll work real hard for you for at least three years.' I was so impressed with his honesty and every else about him, I offered him the job with the hopes that he would hopefully change his mind in the future and stay with us.

"I told his father and several more people in the State Police I was doing them a big favor by helping train someone who was going to be one of their best in the future," said Rogers.

Bowling graduated from Basic Entry Level Law Enforcement at the Piedmont Regional Criminal Justice Training Academy and received the Gold Medal for having the highest score for the Virginia LawFit Physical Fitness Training test. His death is the second recent tragedy for the Martinsville Department after the cancer death of Lt. Tim Jones, Bowling's shift supervisor.

Bowling served in the Marine Corps Reserve and was on active duty in boot camp from June 2000 to December 2000, graduated from basic training as a Distinguished Graduate. He was trained as a combat engineer. After being called to active duty last year, he reported to the Marines June 1, 2004 as a Corporal and was deployed to Iraq.

"Everything about Jonathan was impressive; he came highly recommended by everyone we talked to and his background investigation was absolutely spotless," said Rogers. "He was without question, one of the most clean cut young men I have ever met. Jonathan was well received by everyone in the Department. He had a great personality, great sense of humor, and really enjoyed his work. He was very disciplined and focused on his future."

"This incident certainly brings home the reality of war and makes me appreciate all of the men and women in our military as well as those who have served in the past," Rogers said. "It's people like Jonathan Bowling who make you respect the military and law enforcement."

In addition to Bowling, the city has other employees on active duty, including Officer Robert Smith who is currently on his second tour of duty in Iraq as a Marine.

"We have other members of the Martinsville staff who are serving out their commitments in the war on terror, and we hope for their security and safe return," said Collins.

In addition to his mother, father and stepparents, Bowling is survived by twin sisters, Brooke Elizabeth and Ashley Blair Bowling. He was an elder at Bouldin Memorial Church in Patrick County.

According to a biography submitted for employment with the MPD, Bowling got his interest in the military from Patrick County High School's Junior Reserve Officer Training Program. Bowling joined the program as a freshman at PCHS, and rose through the ranks to become a company commander and win the Army Recruiting Command Award for JROTC.

As a high school sophomore, he was awarded a medal from the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

A member of the Martinsville Police Department has been killed in the line of duty in Iraq, state police said.

Virginia State Police Sgt. R.A. Black said Jonathan William Bowling, a member of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves and an officer with the Martinsville police force, died of combat-related injuries. State Police spokesman Sgt. Bob Carpentieri said Bowling, 23, died yesterday or today.

Bowling's father is Virginia State Police Master Trooper Darryl Bowling, who is stationed in Patrick County.

"Everyone's taking it pretty hard," Carpentieri said.

...From the Associated Press...

RICHMOND, Va. – A Martinsville police officer and Marine was killed Wednesday in the deadliest day for U.S. forces in Iraq since the war began.

Marine Reservist Cpl. Jonathan Bowling, 23, was one of four Marines killed during an ambush attack on a convoy in Iraq's Anbar Province. In all, 36 American troops were killed in Iraq Wednesday, including 31 who died in a Marine helicopter crash in the western desert.

"He called my daughter just about every day, sometimes two to three times a day," said Kenny McFarling, the father of Bowling's fiance, 26-year-old Tonya McFarling.

Wednesday was Tonya's birthday, and Bowling called and e-mailed her a birthday card and picture of himself, McFarling said.

McFarling said Bowling was like a son to him, and seeing him go to Iraq was like sending one of his own children.

"He told me that he hated to go, but that it was his duty," McFarling said.

Bowling joined the Martinsville Police Department in December 2002, hoping to gain the experience to fulfill his dream of becoming a Virginia state trooper, coworkers said. His father, Darrell Bowling, is a veteran state trooper in Patrick County.

"He wanted to follow in his father's footsteps," said Martinsville Police Officer Randy Joyce, who worked with Bowling and helped introduce him to his fiance.

"He was a little, bitty fellah, but with the heart of a lion," Joyce said about the young police officer who stood 5 foot 10 inches tall, but weighed only 130 pounds. And despite his size, Joyce said Bowling loved his new Harley Davidson Road King.

Martinsville Police Chief Mike Rogers said Bowling would have made a great state trooper.

"He had a great personality, great sense of humor, and really enjoyed his work," Rogers said in a statement from the city. "He was very disciplined and focused on his future."

The statement said Bowling became interested in the military after joining the Junior Reserve Officer Training Program in high school.

In addition to his father and mother, Robin Feron of Stuart, Va., he is survived by his twin sisters, Brooke Elizabeth and Ashley Blair. Bowling was a member of the Patrick County Volunteer Fire Department and an elder at his church.

"He was a Christian," Joyce said, "so I think he is all right now."

Funeral set for Marine

The funeral for Marine Lance Cpl. Jonathan Williams Bowling will be held Thursday at Patrick County High School.

Bowling, 23, of Patrick County and a Martinsville police officer, was killed last week in Iraq when his convoy was hit by a rocket grenade.

The family will receive friends from 6-8 p.m. Wednesday at the school and the funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium, according to Moody Funeral Services.

Although school will be in session on Thursday, Harry Litten, manager of the funeral home, said school officials and students will accommodate the funeral and its attendants. School bells will be suspended, the auditorium will be not be used for school activity and students and staff will be encouraged to park on the outskirts of the school's main parking lots.

Also, members of the Jeb Stuart Rescue Squad will help direct parking, Litten added.

Today, a Martinsville Police Department motorcycle brigade will escort funeral home officials to and from Greensboro, N.C., to pick up Bowling's body, Litten said.

Likewise, the funeral will be highlighted by military and police regimental ceremony, he added.

Bowling was one of four Marines, all members of the reserve unit based in Lynchburg, who were killed when their convoy was ambushed by insurgents in Anbar province.

A Martinsville police officer since December 2002, Bowling was called to active duty with the reserves on June 28, according to a press release.

Bowling will be buried immediately following the funeral service, with military honors by the Marine Corps, at the Pilson family cemetery.

From Great-Grandmother Jeanette Bowling

We met with the other family members at the funeral home. Samantha's family was real late getting there because it had been a real emotional time at their house this morning. There was 12 or 13 cars following the hearse and nearly that many waiting at Roselawn. About 30 or so were there. We sat under the tent with the other family members. Beau had on his Marine dress uniform and sat between me and his other grandma. He took it real hard as did his whole family and the baby's dad and his family. Walker went to school which was best since he doesn't understand yet. Everyone stayed till a grader came with dirt in the scoop and a man got out and filled the four foot deep grave, put the sod on and laid the flowers on it. The man who said the graveside service also sang Amazing Grace. We all stood around and talked a half hour or so. They will pick out a foot marker with angels tomorrow. Love you all. Mom
